

DIJC At-A-Glance

What is the DIJC?

- A new ad hoc committee focused on matters of diversity, inclusion, and justice for the sake of the gospel.

What is the purpose of the DIJC?

- To create a collaborative and comprehensive approach to help St. Mark's live into our shared mission and vision of bringing about God's grace, welcome, and peace for all people.

How will the DIJC work?

- This team is committed to a slow, faithful, and steady approach so that St. Mark's continues to become a place of belonging for all people.
- It will meet with all congregational ministry boards on a rotating basis to reflect and dream together.
- The team will be committed to ongoing personal education in matters of diversity, inclusion, and justice in our local communities so that it can be an informed resource to the congregation.

What are the objectives of the DIJC?

- To foster a safe and courageous congregational dynamic where members can ask open questions and engage in conversation related to faith and diversity
- To create opportunities to come together for the purpose of authentic relationship-building through listening, empathy, and mutual storytelling
- To accompany the congregation of St. Mark's as we grow to be more reflective of our diverse context
- To increase our ability and willingness to share the Gospel with all people
- To live into the gospel-oriented perspective that drives our collective mission, vision, and values
- To increase our engagement with local organizations and faith communities for the purpose of outreach and partnership
